In older times a leper was banished out of town; in modern times a sick man is stoned out of all his chances in life by the crowd of busy hustling men who have no place and no use for him. A man who has brilliant talents and fine feelings and frequent 'off-days' might as well go out of business.

These things are bad enough in the self-disgust and wretchedness they involve if they do not go any further. But you never know what is going to develop in a half hastened, bile-poisoned constitution. If a man as soon as he feels that he is not getting the forceful strength and energy out of his food that he ought to, will begin taking

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, he will soon put himself in the position where he can do a man's work easily and cheerfully.

His appetite will be sharpened; his liver invigorated, his digestion strengthened; an edge put on his whole nutritive organism. Those subtle poisons which debilitate the entire organism and invite consumption and a host of other diseases, will be driven out of the system; and he will gain plenty of pure nourishing red blood, muscle, power and nerve-force. In short he will be a man among men.

There are hundreds of delusive temporary stimulants, 'malt extracts' sarsaparillas and compounds, which are more or less 'boomed' by merely profit seeking druggists, but an honest druggist will give you the 'Golden Medical Discovery' when you ask for it. If well informed he knows that its sales have steadily increased for thirty years and that it is the invention of an educated, authorized physician who has devoted a lifetime of active practice and profound study to chronic diseases.

SELFISHNESS.

We Nearly Always Discover It In Others, but Never In Ourselves.

Probably the most insidious of all the faults is that upon the absence of which we most pride ourselves, and that at the same time we notice most readily in others. In some of us it is pride, in others gossiping. The list is long, and we know it without going into details, but that which we do not seem to realize is that the very most common fault of us all as a mass is selfishness.

We do know that nearly every one we meet is selfish, but we seldom discover how selfish we are ourselves unless shown by a sudden touch of deep regret. Most of us discover, for instance, that we were selfish in reference to some dear friend dead, but we stop right there, and while we regret the past and shed useless tears over the lost chance we do not make any new discoveries—namely, that we are selfish to our living friends—and while we think that they are being unfair, unkind, to us we forget to be generous ourselves, to look beyond the frown, the hard word, the selfish act or neglect, and see what it is that causes all this, to see what strain our friend is bearing and share it in so far as patience, generous forbearance, will lighten it.

Think how selfish most of us have been in time gone by, how quick words have gone out to hurt hearts already hurt, when from us at least that particular cross friend had a right to hope for better things.

Do not make a very close examination of things in general and see whether you are not yourself more selfish than you are your friends, and remember that the greatest generosity in this world is to have patience with others in their 'selfishness,' for in half the cases at least it is pain or worry, not real intended unkindness at all.—Philadelphia Times.

OUR JAWS NEED EXERCISE.

Lack of Mastication Causes Dyspepsia and Teeth Troubles.

Mastication is rapidly becoming a lost art, and, although we have become hardened to the fact that three-fourths of the dyspepsia is due to this cause, it might surprise some of us to know that the early decay of the teeth and diseases of the gums are occasioned by this same lack of maxillary exercise.

A disease of the gums, called Riggs' disease, which is every day becoming more common, is caused almost entirely by the want of proper mastication. Twenty five years ago this trouble was not considered of any importance by the dentist on account of its rare occurrence.

Today it is given more care than the decay of the teeth, as he is frequently consulted by patients who have a full set of natural teeth which are quite loose in the jaw. Aside from this they are sound and healthy, and after a certain development in the disease nothing can be done to help them.

By lack of exercise the blood which should nourish both the bones and the gums is not carried to the part, nor does the blood carry sufficient material to the teeth; hence the enamel formed is defective, and early decay results. Frequently, too, the mechanical development of the jaw is arrested by this same want of motion.

Most of the food among the better class of people today is cooked so as to require very little mastication, and the consequence is that the muscles have become flabby, the jaws slender and the processes for the attachment of the muscles almost obliterated.—Boston Globe.

It is an easy thing to be a millionaire in Berlin. A yearly income of over $1,000,000, representing the interest on 1,000,000 marks, is the qualification for that title, which is enjoyed by 2,008 Berliners.

Garlic came from Asia and has been used since the earliest times. It formed part of the diet of the Israelites in Egypt and was used by Greek and Roman soldiers and African peasants.

On a Large Scale.

"I have heard some very romantic stories about your successes," said the young woman as she looked out of the corners of her eyes and adjusted her mouth so as to make dimples.

"Yes," responded Senator Sorghum with a complacent smile.

"It has been intimated to me that you have made money out of politics. But, of course, one doesn't have to believe everything one hears."

"Well, these silver people did so badly when they tried to make politics out of money I dunno's a man would be to blame for turning the experiment the other way around."

"And then another person told me that you got your very first start in life as a curstose fakir."

"That's libelous."

"I thought so."

"Absolutely false. The way I got my first start was this. I had a farm left me, which wasn't good for anything else, so I got it surveyed and had maps printed and opened up an office and sold the whole thing off in lots. I'm not a man of small enterprises. When I start out to do anything, I do it with a will. As soon as I made up my mind to take I faked a whole town. I wouldn't stop with a curstose fakir."—Washington Star.

She Kept Her Appointment.

A was a young man in a cavalry regiment who fell in love with B, the daughter of an opulent merchant. He grew tired of her, and when his regiment was ordered to the east he left her without explanations.

Returning home with more dust than medals on his coat, he dined and went to a ball, where B. was the darlings among the beauties. They danced, and she showed no resentment on the score of past unfaithfulness. Pressed by A., she gave him an appointment at a certain church near her father's house, which had been their trysting place in other days.

A. went happily to his club, and his old friend, Major C., offered him a cigar.

"I met Lucy B. this evening," said A., and he told his friend of the appointment she had given him.

The major expressed no surprise, but said Lucy was a good and forgiving girl—for he knew what had gone before.

A. went to the church on the day named, and there was a wedding. When the ceremony was over, B. the bride, came out of the church on the arm of Major C., the bridegroom.

A. went home to his lodgings.—Pearson's Weekly.

Sure They Were Safe.

The method adopted by a rustic looking individual to prevent the loss of his hat and coat while dining furnished the patrons of a Market street cafe with much amusement yesterday. The stranger meandered leisurely into the place during the busy lunch hour and made his way to the nearest vacant chair.

Producing several yards of twine from his pocket, he removed his hat and passed the string once around the crown, making it fast with a double knot.

This, of course, caused a number of diners to suspend hostilities in order better to observe the next move, but the careful stranger appeared oblivious to the sensation he was creating. Taking off his coat, he passed the loose end of the string through one sleeve, and, after securing the end to his wrist, hung hat and coat on the rack. Assuring himself that the knots were firmly tied, the cautious individual sat down and proceeded to get away with a substantial meal.—Philadelphia Record.

ANOTHER REJOINDER.
Chairman Osborne States Some Facts and Draws Some Pertinent Conclusions Therefrom.
EDITOR JOURNAL: I have no desire to unnecessarily prolong a discussion with the attorney of the Reno Water, Land and Light Company but I am unwilling that one of his charges in Friday's Gazette shall go to the public uncontradicted. He practically admits the truth of most of my former communications although with considerable quibbling and equivocation. His remark that the corruption of City Councils is notorious might elicit the observation that the integrity of courts in their decisions is frequently questioned but it is hoped that neither fact has any application whatever to the present controversy.
Judge Cheney was requested to name a single claim that has been allowed by the City Council which was illegal.
His answer is: "The claim of Schaw, Ingram, Batcher & Co. for $117,000 of city bonds to build water works."
As a matter of fact Schaw, Ingram, Batcher & Co. never at any time presented a claim against the city and none in their favor was ever at any time allowed by the City Council.
Judge Cheney further says: $52,000 of which bonds would have been delivered upon the signing of the contract and before a stroke of work was done.
Why don't Judge Cheney add the important fact that the $25,000 in City bonds would not have been delivered until Schaw, Ingram, Batcher & Co. first executed an approved bond in favor of the City of Reno for the sum of $50,000.
Judge Cheney continues in his reference to the proposed contract with Schaw, Ingram, Batcher & Co. that it "has been adjudged illegal."
It is true that it was adjudged to be illegal, but the judgment was by Judge Cheney only, who, after deciding the case in favor of the Reno Water, Land and Light Company, to the painful surprise of a large number of his friends, resigned his office of Judge about a month before his term of office expired and promptly appeared in the Supreme Court of the State as an attorney of the Reno Water, Land and Light Company, and made a zealous argument in favor of his own decision.
I must reiterate the opinion that Assembly bills Nos. 38 and 39 are both the children of the Reno Water, Land and Light Company and of its attorneys, and that both are intended to prevent the people from obtaining better water and brighter lights.
R. S. OSBURN.
Reno, Feb. 18, 1899.
A New Corporation.
A number of California capitalists have formed a company in Reno and have incorporated under the laws of Nevada, taking the name of Nevada-Sierra Oil Company. The object of the company is to engage in the acquisition, improvement and operation of mines, lands, ditches, canals, pipe lines for oil and water; to distribute to cities and communities water, oil and power. The amount of capital stock in the company is $400,000, which shall be divided into 40,000 shares of $10 each. The number of trustees will be five. They will manage all the concerns of the company and be elected annually. Their principal place of business will be Reno.
The Deadly Grip.
Is again abroad in the land. The air you breathe may be full of its fatal germ! Don't neglect the "Grip" or you will open the door to Pneumonia and Consumption and invite death. Its sure signs are chills with fever, headache, dull heavy pains, mucous discharges from the nose, sore throat and never-let-go cough. Don't waste precious time treating this cough with troches, tablets, or poor, cheap syrups. Cure it at once with Dr. King's New Discovery, the infallible remedy for bronchial troubles. It kills the disease germs, heals the lungs and prevents the dreaded after effects from the malady. Price 50 cent and $1.00. Money back if not cured. A trial bottle free at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.
Consistently Inconsistent.
If the Gazette is honest in deprecating publications tending to convey the impression that Reno is not a healthy city, it is presumed that it will not publish broadcast any more such disgusting and untruthful assertions as the following which appeared in its Friday issue:
"Every resident along the bank of the Truckee river from Tahoe to Pyramid lake uses the river for a catch-all for filth of all kinds, including dead cats, dogs, horses, cattle, and, in some cases illegitimate children."
W. T. Hitt Company Incorporates.
W. T. Hitt, J. Clemons and Mrs. Maud Clemons, the owners and managers of the mercantile business formerly conducted by S. O. Wells, have incorporated under the laws of the State. The amount of capital stock is $100,000; the number of shares to be 1,000, at a par value of $100 each. It is evident from this that the W. T. Hitt Co. means to conduct the business on a safe and reliable basis.
Notice of Removal.
The public will take notice that H. F. Pavola has removed his place of business to the Bank of Nevada building. The entrance to the new location is on the alley. Mr. Pavola will be pleased to attend to the wants of his customers and friends where he is now situated.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Error.
The following "jot" appeared in the JOURNAL of yesterday morning:
"There is a bill before the Legislature prohibiting the practice of law by any attorney in a court presided over by a Judge who is related within the third degree of consanguinity to such practitioner. The law would prevent the elder Carler from practicing in this district and W. S. Bonfield in Humboldt county, where his brother is District Judge."
The law mentioned will not prevent either the elder Carler from practicing in this district or W. S. Bonfield from practicing in Humboldt, where his brother is Judge. The law is intended to relieve other members of the bar from the embarrassment of requesting the attendance of another judge in cases in which the gentlemen named are engaged as opposing counsel. Either of the gentlemen named can request the attendance of another judge in their business without any embarrassment with the proposed law in force. There is no more hardship placed by the law on the gentlemen named in their business than there is now on the bars of these counties in general.
Captain Neall Missing.
Captain John M. Neall, U. S. A., is missing and his friends fear he is dead. Most distressing apprehensions are entertained by those who knew him well. An inspection of the safe in the commandant's office at the Presidio revealed a deficit of more than $5,000 in his accounts. Captain Neall left the Presidio last Wednesday without leave and his strange conduct aroused the suspicion of the military authorities, who found upon investigation the deficit in his accounts. Squads of soldiers have been searching the Presidio hills for his body, as it is thought he committed suicide to avoid the shame of detection.
Captain Neall was at one time military instructor at the Nevada State University, where he was esteemed by all who knew him. He had gained a reputation as one of the best officers that ever graduated from West Point, and had lately been promoted from the rank of Lieutenant to that of Captain.
Wild Assertions.
"Observer," who is said to be another of the Reno water company's attorneys, in the Gazette seems to object to the City Council handling the money appropriated for the construction of the city water works. Probably he thinks it should be handled by the lawyers who are retained for the purpose of defeating the will of the people as expressed at the special election two years ago. "Observer" also states that the Truckee river is as much a fifth sewer as the fourteen miles of open ditch.
A number of samples taken ten feet from the shore of the river at the contemplated head of the city works, and analyzed by Professor Wilson of the State University, shows that the water is between one and two points of absolute purity, while that from the ditch is so impure that all of the drinking water used at the University is hauled from a well in the southern part of the city.
Beats the Klondike.
Mr. A. O. Thomas, of Marysville, Tex., has found a more valuable discovery than has yet been made in the Klondike. For years he suffered untold agony from consumption accompanied by hemorrhages; and was absolutely cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and cold. He declares that gold is of little value in comparison with this marvelous cure; would have it, even if it cost a hundred dollars a bottle. Asthma, Bronchitis and all throat and lung affection are positively cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00. Guaranteed to cure or money refunded.
George Avery Killed at Olinghouse.
George Avery, who has resided in Reno for years, was shot and instantly killed yesterday morning by a rifle in the hands of a man named Reed. The shooting occurred at Olinghouse Canyon, near Wadsworth. Reed gave himself up to the Wadsworth authorities. He claims that the shooting was wholly accidental.
Sheriff MoInnis and Coroner Peers went down to Wadsworth this morning to investigate the matter. We have been unable to learn further particulars at the time of this writing.
The ponds connecting with Washoe Lake contain tons of dead fish, mostly perch. The fish, seeking shallow water in which to deposit their spawn, took to the ponds, the water in which was frozen solid during a cold snap, causing the fish inhabitants to perish.

Fine Stock.
Hon. George Russell of Elko paid the JOURNAL office a friendly visit yesterday. Mr. Russell was a delegate to the National Livestock Convention, held at Denver on the 24th ult. He brought from the east 37 head of Durham short horns, of the Crookshank variety for his own ranch and the same number of Herefords and Shorthorns for the Golconda Cattle Company. Mr. Russell has met with excellent success in crossing Herefords with Durham Shorthorns, both noted for the quantity and excellence of their beef. The variety known as "Crookshanks" are Durhams bred in Scotland by a man of that name, and are said to be more hardy and compact than the native stock. "Galabad," one of the bulls purchased by Mr. Russell, has a pedigree of thirteen generations, which records a continuous line of patrilian bovine which is probably unsurpassed by any in the herding books of the Livestock Association.
The Advance of Reno.
It would seem from the fact that capitalists are looking toward Reno that our city is on the dawn of a safe and comparatively rapid boom. New business buildings are in course of construction while plans for others are in view. The large Smith building, when completed, will add greatly to the appearance of Virginia street. Many offers have been made by firms and individuals for the right to open their places of business in the new structure which is nearing completion. Miss Gibbs, the well known milliner, will have the large store running through the center of the building where she will open a millinery establishment equal in rank to those in the larger cities. Miss Gibbs is so well known in Reno that it is hardly necessary to comment on her ability and enterprise. She has proven herself to be almost beyond competition in the past, consequently her success is assured in this new undertaking.
An Interesting Case.
All people are interested in a new case that has recently cropped up in Reno, and they have good reason for being so. This case contains many striking features. It is Mr. F. P. Dann's show case on Virginia street, down by the iron bridge. It is very beautiful, his new window display of all that is modern in photography. There one may see large opalotypes, small autotypes and lovely porcelains. Just think! Artistic photographs on genuine porcelain. And what do you think of this? He makes photographs on handkerchiefs—silk handkerchiefs. What more appropriate present could be imagined than one of these with your photo on it?

Their Wedding Trip.

A summer visitor in a New England mill town made friends with one or two of the French Canadians who were employed as operatives in the mills.

One of these was an elderly widower whose two youngest children the visitor had taken to drive with him several times.

"I make a marriage bet' week, ma'mselle," said the father as she deposited the children at their home late one afternoon. "You see us all go past your house on the wedding trip."

"Indeed!" said the young woman.
"Shall you go in the coach?"

"No, we go in hired buggy. My wife she go, and I with her, to the bury ground, same as our people most always," said the man, with evident surprise at the lady's ignorance. "Three buggy more behind us, and we all carry two, three bouquet to put on my first wife's grave. Yes'm, it is a pretty wedding trip to the bury ground, and respectful."

Three or four days later the summer visitor was filled with mixed emotions as he saw the four buggies, laden with the wedding party clad in gay attire, pass the house and turn into the little cemetery. Some minutes later the buggies again went by, that time at a cheerful trot, and she was favored with an elaborate bow from the bridegroom, whose face wore a happy and virtuous smile.—South's Companion.
